ABOUT US

The Piscataway Choral Collective is a group of adults from the Piscataway community who love singing! We meet twice a month to sing, learn, and build friendships through the common bond of choral music. Rebekah Sterlacci (District Supervisor of Visual and Performing Arts) and Megan Suozzo (Choral Director at Piscataway High School) will lead the group in collaboration, music exploration, and performance.

MEMBERSHIP

This group is for adults with varying degrees of choir and singing experience (no prior experience required)! Auditions are not necessary and there is no fee for participation. Just bring yourself, an open mind, and a desire to learn new things and connect with members of our community!
